

Tenebrae

A Tenebrae service gets its name from the Latin, meaning “shadows.” In a Tenebrae service, the readings tell the story of the last day in Jesus’ life. They are read without introduction or conclusion, and after each reading a candle is extinguished. In this liturgical year, the focus is on the gospel of Luke, so the readings are all taken from that gospel. The last pillar candle represents Jesus, and although the candle is removed at the end of the service, the light is never extinguished. The loud noise at the end represents the death of Jesus. After the Christ candle has been removed and you hear a loud noise, you are invited to remain seated in silence for as long as you want. The congregation leaves in silence after the choir sings “Stay With Me.”
