“Many Rivers to Cross”

Jimmy Cliff (1969)

Many rivers to cross
But I can't seem to find my way over
Wandering I am lost as I travel along
The white cliffs of Dover
Many rivers to cross and it's only my will
That keeps me alive
I've been licked, washed up for years and I merely survive because of my pride.

And this loneliness won't leave me alone
It's such a drag to be on your own
My woman left and she didn't say why
Well I guess I have to try.
Many rivers to cross but just where to begin
I'm playing for time
There'll be times I find myself thinking
Of committing some dreadful crime.

Prayers – Pastor Becky Sechrist

Morning Prayer – adapted from “Touch Holiness,” ed. Ruth C. Duck & Maren C. Tirabassi

We come before you, O God, in the shadow of the cross, grateful for your great love for us. As you came to us in Jesus to win our love and obedience, reveal yourself among us still. Give us courage to follow Jesus over rocky hills where we carry our crosses and green valleys where you restore our souls. For we pray in the name of the shepherd whose life was laid down for the sheep. Amen.

Silent Prayer – Anders Nelson

“Sweet Hour of Prayer”

William Bradbury (1859)

Lord's Prayer (inclusive)

Our Creator, God in heaven, hallowed be thy name.
Thy kingdom come, thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread.
And forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us.
Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.
For thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever. Amen.

Children's Message – Jenia Strom

Passing the Peace

Congregational Hymn #278 – Anders Nelson and Congregational Voices “Hosanna, Loud Hosanna” Jeanette Threlfall (1873)

1. Hosanna, loud hosanna, the little children sang, through pillared court and temple the lovely anthem rang.
To Jesus, who had blessed them close folded to his breast,
the children sang their praises, the simplest and the best.
2. From Olivet they followed mid an exultant crowd, the victor palm branch waving, and chanting clear and loud.
The Lord of earth and heaven rode on in lowly state, nor scorned that little children should on his bidding wait.
3. “Hosanna in the highest!” that ancient song we sing,
for Christ is our Redeemer, the Lord of heaven our King.
May we ever praise him with heart and life and voice,
and in his blissful presence eternally rejoice!

Offertory – The Methodicals

“Hosanna”

Irving Burgie, William Attaway (1956)

Hosanna me built a house, oh
Hosanna me built a house, oh
Hosanna me built a house, oh
Hosanna me built a house, oh

House built on a weak foundation
Will not stand oh no
Story told thru all creation
Will not stand oh no
House built on a weak foundation
Will not stand oh no
Story told thru all creation
Will not stand oh no

Hosanna, well come wash it down
Sun come burn it up
Storm come blow it down
This house could never be
This house could never be
It would be weak you see

House built on a weak foundation
Will not stand oh no
Story told thru all creation
Will not stand oh no

Hosanna me built a house, oh
Hosanna me built a house, oh
Hosanna me built a house, oh
Hosanna me built a house, oh

House built on a rock foundation
It will stand oh yes
Story told thru all creation
It will stand oh yes

Hosanna, well come wash on it
Sun come shine on it
Storm can't blow it down
This house will always be
This house will always be
It will be strong you see

Hosanna me built a house, oh
Hosanna me built a house, oh
Hosanna me built a house, oh
Hosanna me built a house, oh

Practices for Praising

- When a reason to praise comes into view, we need to seize the moment. Waiting until the next performance evaluation or class reunion, or until we write our Christmas cards or the event is repeated, lets the present and proper moment slip through our fingers.
- Keep a diary or journal of persons and/or things you wished you had praised during the course of the day. Take time to remember those persons and things at the end of the day . . . give thanks and praise . . . and take the appropriate step to let them know about it. Make a telephone call or drop someone a note to tell someone that he or she did a fine job. Be specific about what you are praising. And be accurate.
- Avoid the trap of offering phony praise. Phony praise always sounds like phony praise.
- Praise children. It is true that when we affirm children, they learn the importance of praising and may become better praisers themselves.
- Get in the habit of praising God regularly and simply for who God is as well as for what God has done in your life. Take time to notice the activity of God in the world today. Notice and wonder—and allow yourself to be amazed.
- When praising others is particularly difficult, remember that you are accepted by God not by virtue of being #1, but because you are a daughter or son of God.
- Enjoy the company of people who affirm you. We all need praise and we owe it to ourselves to live in supportive climates. It is hard to imagine that one who is not praised can extend it to others.
- Develop your own style of praise. Observe how different people praise, and experiment with styles until you find one that you like. Be sensitive to timing. There are moments that are opportune for praise, but there are other moments that are too rushed and frazzled for praise to be welcomes, absorbed, or even heard. The most important thing is to get into the habit of praise. Style can be perfected and timing can almost always be improved.
